

JOB DESCRIPTION

Job Title:	Lecturer in International Public Policy (Professional Practice)
Department / Unit:	School of Politics, International Relations and Philosophy
Job type	Teaching and Professional Practice
Grade:	Grade 8
Accountable to:	Head of the School (Chris Hanretty)
Purpose of the Post
The Lecturer in International Public Policy will convene the School's MSc programme in International Public Policy, teaching on International Public Policy Theory module in the autumn term, and International Public Policy Practice in the spring term. S/he shall bring in professionals in public policy from outside the College to illustrate some of the problems in public policy and public administration that they have faced.
Key Tasks
<ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Convene and deliver an International Public Policy Theory module 2. Convene and deliver an International Public Policy Practice module 3. Act as programme lead for the MSc in International Public Policy 4. Work with professional contacts outside the College to further the study of (international) public policy at Royal Holloway
Main Contacts
The post holder will work with colleagues within the School of Politics, International Relations and Philosophy, and in particular with the Head of Department and Director of Postgraduate Taught programmes. A research, travel and training budget is attached to each post. Royal Holloway is committed to employer development and offers opportunities for training and a mentoring scheme for all employees.
Other Duties
The duties listed are not exhaustive and may be varied from time to time as dictated by the changing needs of the College. The post holder will be expected to undertake other duties as appropriate and as requested by his/her manager. The post holder may be required to work at any of the locations at which the business of Royal Holloway is conducted.	