

PERSON SPECIFICATION

Details on the qualifications, experience, skills, knowledge and abilities that are needed to fulfil this role are set out below.

Job Title: Post-doctoral Fellow (Political Psychology/ Social Neuroscience)

Department: Psychology/Centre for the Politics of Feelings

	Essential	Desirable	Tested by Application Form/Interview/Test
Knowledge, Education, Qualifications and Training
BSc in Psychology or Political Science or related discipline	X		Application form
MSc in Psychology or Neuroscience		X	Application form
PhD in Political/Social Psychology or Social-Affective Neuroscience	X		Application form
A demonstrable interest in interdisciplinary research	X		Application form/Research proposal/ interview
Skills and Abilities
Published research in peer-reviewed journals	x		Application form/interview
Track record of excellent research in their discipline assessed by the quality rather than the quantity of published work	x		Application form/interview
Have sufficient specialist knowledge and methodological, statistical and programming skills that reflect the state-of-the-art in their respective disciplines and area of specialization	x		Application form/interview
Skills and abilities to conduct quantitative research	x		Application form/interview
Skills and abilities to conduct online experiments	x		Application form/interview
Skills and abilities to conduct psychophysiological research		x	Application form/interview
Skills and abilities to conduct neuroimaging research		x	Application form/interview
Ability to develop and lead independently on research projects and/or research proposals	x		Application form/Research Proposal/ interview

Experience
In conducting interdisciplinary research		x	Application form/interview
In disseminating research in audiences beyond academic		x
Other requirements
Fluency in one or more languages other than English		x	Application form/interview